Donate to the AFA

Words from the Allsherjargoði

The amazing news of May was the full payoff of our Njörðshof loan! Over recent weeks and months, we have been blessed by an outpouring of generosity as the finish line came into view. At the end of May, a new member in Oregon, Matthew Bean, made the single largest donation the AFA has ever received. Matthew Bean donated $41,480 completely paying off the Hof as well as generous donations to Óðinshof and our South African efforts. It is truly amazing to see all the wonderful things we are able to achieve with the generosity and commitment of our AFA family alongside the bountiful blessings of the Æsir. Thank you to each and every one of you who has given of themselves to make this happen.

Hail the Givers! Hail Matthew Bean! Hail Njörðr!

The effort to get Freyshof has hit the ground running. Stay tuned for updates.

Event season is upon us! I am looking forward to seeing all of you at Miðsumar at Óðinshof, Sigrblót at Sigrheim, and Freyfaxi at Baldrshof. If you can make any of these, I would strongly urge you to make the effort, make the journey, and worship with your Folk in the might of this summer. If you can make it to all 3, even better! Now is an amazing time to be Ásatrú, let's make the most of it!

Hail the Æsir!
Hail the Folk!

Words from Our Goðar

Declaration of Purpose VIII

VIII. The exploration of the universe, in keeping with the Faustian instinct of our kind

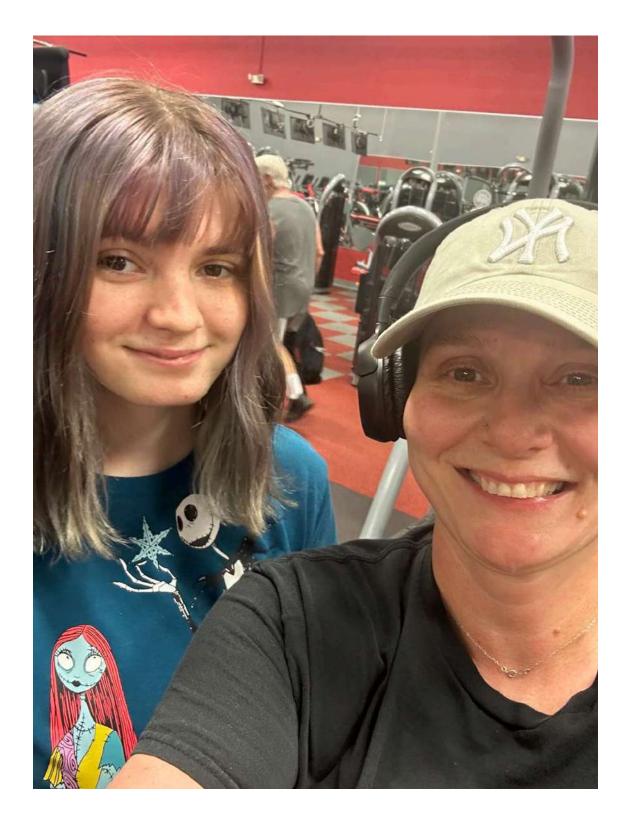

We are a wide-faring Folk. Óðinn is a wanderer, and those who follow our Gods have typically been horizon-seekers. The longship has been replaced by the spaceship and the electron microscope, but the spirit of exploration remains the same. Our love of freedom and our craving for frontiers are undoubtedly connected. Stagnation brings on complacency, and complacency is death.

We would not be the advanced race that we are had our forebearers not been so adept at exploration and incorporating the latest technology of their time. Lord Óðinn is the epitome of our nature to seek new horizons and push beyond what we thought possible. Without that inherent nature, we as a race would still be barely clinging on to our existence just as you see in many other races around Miðgarðr, where their only means of survival comes from others stepping in to hold their hand. It is paramount that we continue to seek new opportunities and sights, new frontiers and capabilities. Not all races are equal; if that were the case, we would all be adept explorers and there would be no need to bring other races along, riding on our coattails as they contribute very little if anything to human advancement. Look around at other indigenous peoples around the world and you will see how stagnation, complacency, and a lack of the Wanderer's spirit has left them far behind in the human experience, begging and grasping for others to carry them along or they would indeed cease to exist. Keep striving to improve yourself and your Folk, pushing perceived and imposed boundaries to seek new opportunities and environments.

Working on a Better You

Working on a better you. It is always hard to work on yourself to get you whipped back in shape spiritually, physically, and mentally. So, as we strive to be a better people, we must also strive to fix the broken inside ourselves.

We must always have our Gods, our Ancestors, and out Folk in mind. We must never get complacent. If we do, things will fall apart around us. We must be healthy in a physical way to be able to stay strong.

We are the chariot of the blood of all those who came before us. Be worthy.

Self-care is essential to the soul. In Ásatrú, we celebrate strength, beauty, and victory. This requires self-care. As women, we are predisposed to care for everyone around us. Our husbands, children, our friends, but we far too oftentimes overlook our own needs.

We are taught that this is selfishness. What a sad way to view this. We are given one chance to live this life; it is up to us to seize this life and live it in a way that brings glory to our ancestors and sets an example for our children. Both are watching.

Ásatrú Trúlögmál

Ásatrú Trúlögmál: The fundamental beliefs of the Asatru Folk Assembly.

You can find it on our website at https://www.runestone.org/asatru-trulogmal.

We have known for a long time that a clear expression of the fundamental beliefs of the AFA was needed and recently, we took the first steps in presenting that in a clear and straight forward way. Please know this is the first step and is by no means all-encompassing. The intention here is to express the very fundamentals of our religion in one place, in a way that is easy for our AFA family to reference as well as a document to explain our religion to those who ask: "What is it that you guys believe?"

Hail the Heroes of Ásatrú that paved the way! Hail the Asatru Folk Assembly! Hail the Æsir!

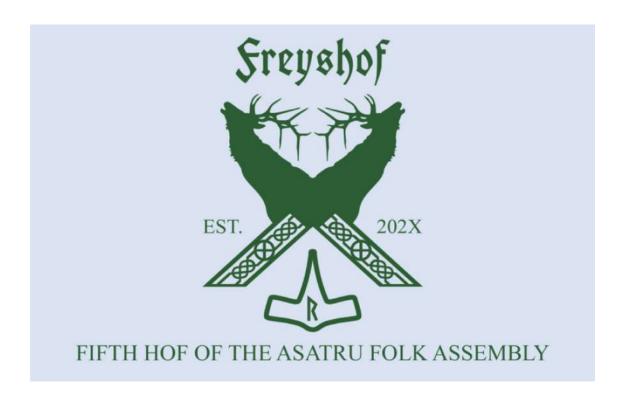

Matthew D. Flavel Allsherjargoði, Asatru Folk Assembly mattflavel@runestone.org

The Quest for Freyshof

"Njördr in Nóatún begot afterward two children: the son was called Freyr, and the daughter Freyja; they were fair of face and mighty. Freyr is the most renowned of the Æsir; he rules over the rain and the shining of the sun, and therewithal the fruit of the earth; and it is good to call on him for fruitful seasons and peace. He governs also the prosperity of men."

- Gylfaginning

Freyshof Fund – Asatru Folk Assembly (runestone.org)

This sacred quest is making great progress! The generosity has been amazing, as always!

This is the list of things that need to happen before we can make Freyshof a reality:

- 1. NJÖRÐSHOF IS NOW COMPLETELY PAID OFF!
- 2. CURRENT AVERAGE MONTHLY DONATIONS LOOK GOOD!
- 3. We need to locate a suitable property (we have already begun scouting).
- 4. We need to find lenders.

This is not a "quick" process so stay patient and resolute. As we progress, I will keep you all updated on our progress!

Hail Freyr!

Blótferð to Uppsala University's Library; An Asatru Folk Assembly Library?

Uppsala University Library (Uppsala Universitet Bibliotek)
Carolina Rediviva [name of the building]
Address: Dag Hammarskjölds Väg 1, 752 37 Uppsala, Sweden

Long ago, my instincts and heritage led me to visit Scandinavia and Germany. During one trip, I traveled to the City of Uppsala, just north of Stockholm, Sweden. Ásatrúar traveled long distances to visit the religious center at Gamla Uppsala (translation "Old Uppsala"). The AFA has a term for these journeys: Blótferðs. (A rough translation of Blótferð from Goði Trent East is a "sacrificial journey.")

The Library at Uppsala University was founded in 1620 by Sweden's King Gustavus Adolphus. He also donated the first manuscripts and books. The library has been collecting written works from all over the world and in many languages for more than 400 years, including numerous books and manuscripts in Old Norse and other Scandinavian languages.

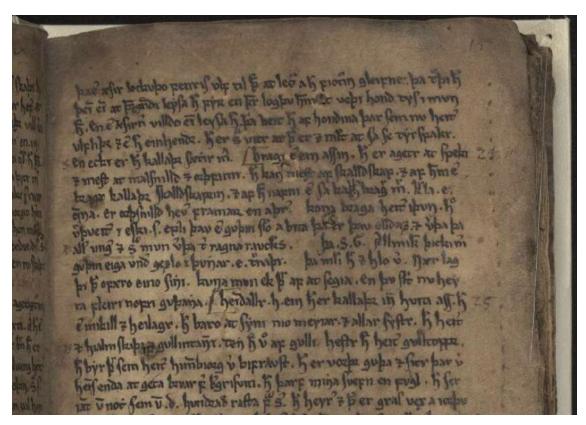

The well-worn cover of The Uppsala Edda (Photo Credit: ALVIN, a Digital Cultural Heritage for Sweden)

Entering the Library's exhibition halls, to my surprise, I saw The Uppsala Edda, an Icelandic manuscript from approximately 1300 C.E. This manuscript is most likely a copy of Snorre Sturleson's (Snorri Sturlasson) Edda, also known as The Younger Eddas, The Prose Edda, or The Prosaic Edda. But this particular copy at the library is identified as "The Uppsala Edda."

I can't find words for the thrill of seeing this original manuscript, nor words for the feeling of standing three or four feet from this centuries-old, handwritten book, kept in its glass case. This book has been viewed by thousands and will continue to inspire and enlighten those who see it in the future.

An enlarged portion of page 15 of The Uppsala Edda. (Photo Credit: ALVIN, a Digital Cultural Heritage for Sweden)

The Uppsala Edda manuscript was donated to Uppsala University in 1669. You can find images of the original manuscript by using the Uppsala University Library's website, and the on-line tool called Alvin (Digital Cultural Heritage). Look for the pages titled "DG 11 - Uppsala-Edda," two examples of which are provided in this article.

During this visit years ago, I had not yet Come Home to Ásatrú. Therefore, the importance of going to Gamla Uppsala, the former religious and political center, was not forefront in my mind. I hope someday to make a Blótferð to Sweden to visit Gamla Uppsala! I hope all the Folk can visit this important site.

A view of a portion of Sigrheim's vast land area, including the bronze statutes of Founder and former Allsherjargoði Stephen McNallen and Hofgyðja Sheila McNallen. (Photo Credit: The author (2024))

What would be the modern equivalent of Gamla Uppsala? Sigrheim in the future. According to the AFA's Sigrheim Fund web page, Sigrheim means "Home of Victory." The AFA's current vision includes (at least) an AFA neighborhood of members' residences, a magnificent Hof to Týr, guest lodging, and a common meeting/cooking/dining area. (There are also forested hills and a cemetery.) "This land will serve as the corporate and ecclesiastical headquarters for the Asatru Folk Assembly." The Sigrheim Fund web page also states, "As this dream grows, we also envision facilities to do homeschooling, summer camps, community craft fairs, and athletic training."

Consider how powerful it would be for the AFA, if we had our own beloved library, to be built as part of Sigrheim. Why there? If Uppsala was the cultural center for our Ásatrú ancestors, Sigrheim will be Ásatrú's cultural and religious center in North America. This library would exist primarily for the security of preserving our history and for serving the AFA worldwide, either when they visit in person or remotely.

Please note: An AFA Library at Sigrheim is not currently any AFA initiative. The library idea is just from my musings, as a devoted and long-time AFA member.

The Sigrheim Library could be a repository for the books and manuscripts of the AFA Goðar -- both those works they have written and those they have collected over their lives. In addition, artifacts and objects that tell our history, our story, would be preserved for our children and future generations to explore their heritage. It would include an Ásatrú Academy Library for our youth. This library would not just be for the kindergarten through twelfth-grade books for Ásatrú Academy students, but also contain many resources for our adult members. Members could donate their Ásatrú books, but also books not related to Ásatrú or our heritage, textbooks, and so on, that could be useful for the Sigrheim community and visitors to have for religious purposes or even academic or career development. This library could hold books that are no longer in print and/or are not digitized, and the original versions of history books that have in the last few decades been written or rewritten to be "politically correct." Especially important is saving history books about the Ethnic European Folk printed or written before they have been revised and skewed by "Progressive" Left "historians."

In sum, the AFA Library could be a place for future Ásatrú scholars to do research on Ásatrú and our Ethnic European Folk's heritage, among other topics. The library would be protected by our Folk living at, or near, the Sigrheim property. It would be a sanctuary of knowledge and wisdom for the future growth of Ásatrú.

Again, an AFA Library at Sigrheim is not any present AFA initiative or currently envisioned by AFA Leadership; the library is just my suggestion as a member. Regardless, please consider donating to the Sigrheim Fund to help build out the other Sigrheim facilities and infrastructure, and perhaps for the library.

As just my suggestion, please also consider donating money, books, and artifacts for a potential AFA Library. Please hold off with any donations of books, artifacts, and objects that tell our history, until the AFA has a place to put your items (unless permission granted by the Goðar). For example, I have bequeathed a substantial portion of my extensive book collection to the AFA for the Library. (Allsherjargoði Matt Flavel gave me an approving nod for that idea.) In my personal view, anything you can do to help create this library resource will benefit the AFA.

Hail Snorre Sturleson and all those unnamed Goðar, Loremasters, and Folk through the centuries who passed the Lore down!

Hail the AFA Hof Historians and Librarians!

Hail the AFA Ásatrú Academy!

(Acknowledgements: The author very much appreciates the willingness of Brodie and Olivia Sutherland to facilitate his bequest of books and Ásatrú items to the AFA. Also, the author is very grateful for the suggestions regarding editing of this article from AFA Óðinshof District members Robert and Katie, who are librarians and English teachers.)

Keeping Busy for the Summer

For many families, June heralds the end of the school year. There are some that choose to implement year-round schooling, but most of us are familiar with the concept of a "summer break." Routines are often looser and bedtimes later. There is time to reflect and relax before the planning for the next season of education begins. You may find, however, that it will keep everyone happier and healthier if you do not completely drop the reins of structure and sleep. Neglecting circadian rhythms and patterns can lead to a much harder time later in the summer.

Last month, we discussed the importance of rhythms. The next philosophical nugget to delve into is Inner Work. Once rhythm, structure, and sleep are prioritized, the parent can focus on Inner Work. Perhaps the "break" this summer is a time for reflection and spending more time cultivating the Spiritual state within the parent.

There are many methods and paths with inner work.

Here we come to the spiritual environment of the early childhood setting: the thoughts, attitudes, and imaginations living in the adult who cares for the children. This invisible realm that lies behind the outer actions of the teacher has a profound influence on the child's development. The spiritual environment includes recognition of the child as a threefold being – of body, soul and spirit – on a path of evolutionary development through repeated earth lives. This recognition provides a foundation for the daily activities in the kindergarten, and for the relationship between adult and child. In addition to the questions we have already pondered above, we may ask:

- How is the adult actively engaged in inner development as an early childhood educator, and as a human being?
- How is she cultivating a relationship to the children on a spiritual basis?
- Does she strive to approach her work in such a way that the children in her care are not burdened by unresolved issues in her personal life?
- Do goodness and moral uprightness stream from the being of the teacher? Is her inner and outer activity in coherence with healthy social and ethical values? Is she striving to be an example worthy of the children's imitation?
- Does the educator...love the earth, and the world into which the children are incarnating?
- How does she see her relationship to the past, the present, and the future of our human journey?

This is the very challenging realm of self-knowledge and the activity of the individual ego of the adult – a realm where it is difficult to be objective in our observations. Yet ultimately it is this realm that may affect the development of the children most profoundly. It is not merely our outer activity that affects the developing child; it is what lies behind and is expressed through this outer activity. Ultimately the most profound influence on the child is who we are as human beings – and who and how we are becoming.

Warm greetings to all our students and families! We come to the end of another school year. The whole church is very proud of you and cheers on your progress! I'm very proud of each and every one you!

As a reminder to our families and members, we enroll for the Academy on a year-round basis. If your child still attends public or private school, you are still encouraged to enroll and take advantage of our religious studies and activities. We will be offering kindergarten through 7th grade this fall.

As a reminder to our parents that are required to keep a portfolio of studies, now is a good time to make sure everything is logged and in order.

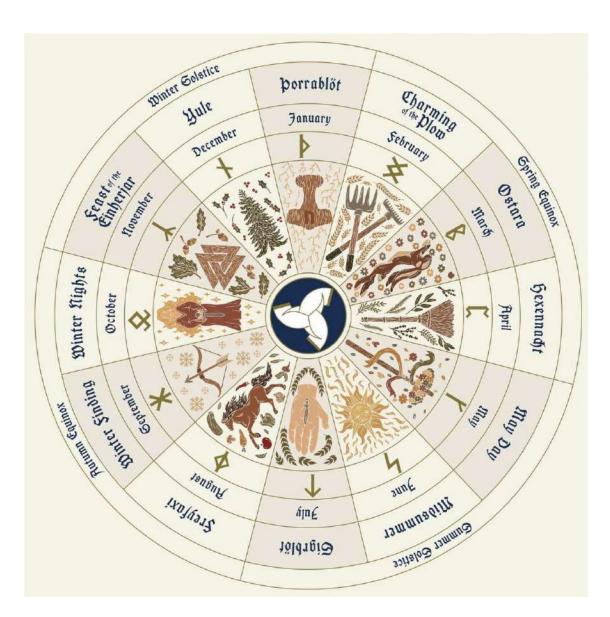

During the summer months of "off" time, please check in on the runestone. The Academy will use this space to offer up some fun summertime Ásatrú activity ideas, and I will occasionally post a small religious lesson.

Thank you again to all our hard-working students and families. We had a great year, and every year gets better!

Day of Remembrance

King Athanaric of the Visigoths | June 9th

Born sometime in the mid-4th century CE, Athanaric led the Visigoths as their king from 369 until his death in 381. We know next to nothing about his early life, or about his life outside of his deeds defending Ásatrú and his people. His 12 years as king were mired by conflict, both with the Christian Romans as well as Visigoths who wanted to see the Æsir forgotten among their Folk.

The early years of Athanaric's reign was spent preserving the Gothic culture and Folksoul by stamping out the foreign faith of Christianity wherever it took root among his people. He correctly surmised that the advent of Christianity would be detrimental to his people, as well as an insult to the Æsir. He was resolute in his opposition to the foreign faith and the soul sickness it would carry for his people, going so far as to punish those who willingly severed their troth with the Æsir.

Initially during this time, Athanaric was allied with another Visigothic ruler named Fritigern, and they fought bravely against the Roman Empire together. After converting to Christianity, however, Fritigern turned on King Athanaric and started the Gothic Civil War. Athanaric won every battle he had with Fritigern and his army of traitorous Christian Visigoths, even after Fritigern received aid from Emperor Valens of Rome. Once the Visigoths who remained true to the Æsir had won the unfortunate war against their kin, however, the infamous Huns invaded from the east.

Upon this invasion, Fritigern and his fellow Christians were allowed to take refuge with the Romans, while the Ásatrú Visigoths were left to fend for themselves. They were outmanned and weakened in the aftermath of their war with Fritigern and the Christian Goths, leaving them no means of standing a chance against the relentless Huns. Athanaric and his Folk were forced out of their lands and into the Carpathians. He and his people were received by Theodosius I in Constantinople, and signed a treaty of friendship with the eastern Roman Empire.

King Athanaric was an energetic and dauntless sovereign of the Visigoths, loyal to his Gods and his Folk until the very end. Not only did he hold his own loyalty to the Æsir, but he strove with all his might to keep his whole Folk in troth with our Gods. Let us honor King Athanaric not only by raising a glass or horn in his name, but also by living Ásatrú proudly! Let us stand tall, walk proudly, and remain resolute in the face of all that would seek to separate us from the holy Æsir!

Hail King Athanaric!

Holiday

Miðsumar | June 20th (Observed June 21st)

For us, Miðsumar is considered the official beginning of summer, but for our ancestors, who only recognized two seasons (winter and summer), Miðsumar was the middle of the season. The common factor between our ancestor's celebration and ours is the Summer Solstice. On Miðsumar, we celebrate the longest day of the year and the shortest night. The dark and cold of winter is firmly past and the days are full of vitality and life.

But first, we celebrate. The best-known symbol of Miðsumar is the bonfire. In Europe, bonfires are still lit and burn the whole night through. Men and women gather to celebrate the warm days and the successful planting season by dancing around the bonfire. Many people focus on love and fertility during the summer solstice, with Folk traditions that include picking wildflowers and putting them under one's pillow to dream of the person they will marry. Couples often jump over the fire during Miðsumar to be blessed by the Æsir and the Ancestors.

The planting season is finished. The hard work that began with the blessing of the tools at Dísaþing and the planting of the seeds after Austra has been finished. Now we tend to the growing crops and revel in the beauty of life. We can take a momentary break from the difficulties of life to embrace that which makes the hard work worth the effort.

As the revelry comes to an end, however, we must take the time to remember that the days will now begin to shorten once again. Winter will come and our hard work is not yet done.

Winter Nights XIV | October 10th – 12th

Get your tickets HERE

This long-running AFA festival is dedicated to our ancestral mothers, the Disir. Started in 2012, the Asatru Folk Assembly's Winter Nights festival was hosted at a beloved camp in Pennsylvania for its first decade. This year, for the second time, Winter Nights XIV will be held from October 10th – 12th, in Cheshire County, New Hampshire. We build upon the success of the Asatru Folk Assembly by making new friends and renewing old friendships. We look forward to seeing members and friends!

Autumn has officially started. The days are noticeably shorter. The nights are noticeably cooler. The trees are ablaze with the colors of Fall and the crunching of the fallen leaves underfoot has begun. All around us the world is dying. This was a time of drawing in close, of hearth and home and family. For our ancestors, this was not an Autumn festival, but a quiet Winter rite in which the female spirits were honored in a rite called Disirblót.

Today, Winter Nights is often seen as a death of the physical world, the world we can see, and the reawakening of the intangible. It is the world of high energy, of spirits. It is that deeper feeling and connection to the things we know to be there. This is the time we honor our Disir—our female ancestors. We remember that without our ancient mothers we could not be. They cared for the home and the hearth fires. They cared for their families. Our ancient mothers, with strength and determination, raised the next generation against odds we cannot really begin to fathom.

With the harvests finished, there is a quiet lull before we turn our minds to the hectic holiday season. Now is a good time to turn inward in introspection, and to self-improvement. It is also the time to meditate on things of a more spiritual nature. Connect to the energy that is always there.

Your registration fee includes all workshops, lectures, meals, tent sites, and of course our holy rites. Only AFA members and vouched-for guests will be admitted to this event. Be A Doer

We need you to volunteer for the AFA!

Yes, you. We have work to do and need folk who are artists, editors, writers, accountants, lawyers, publicists, reputation managers, professionals of all manner, technical support, web developers, system admins, tradesmen, craftswomen, and more. See the list of amazing projects we have below. We will find a way for you to help our Folk.

Please email volunteer@runestone.org to help us make a difference in our world.

Baby Blanket Project

The Women of the AFA are proud to be continuing this fine and noble work we call the Baby Blanket Project! We're committed to ensuring all new babies born within the AFA are gifted a handmade — knit, crocheted, or woven — baby blanket! It's just our little way of celebrating each new addition to our folk!

This project has been going strong for nearly a year now, and has been a rousing success! The Ladies of the AFA have knitted, crocheted, and sewn beautiful baby blankets for over 20 of our littlest folk, with more on the way. They've been delivered everywhere from Alaska to Florida, California to Sweden!

If you are a member of the AFA who is expecting a baby, please let your Folkbuilder know so we can get a blanket to you. If you would like to contribute, either financially or by volunteering as a baby blanket crafter, let your Folkbuilder know about that as well, so he can get you in touch with the right people. It's so rewarding to see your handicraft being loved by our little heathens!

Would you like a blanket for your newborn, or to donate and help with yarn costs (yarn is expensive!)? Please email babyblanket@runestone.org today!

Folk Services

For some, it may be a natural disaster. For others an unexpected change in health, and for some just an unforeseen chain of events. Whatever the case may be sometimes we find ourselves in a sticky situation, and although we try and to work and do our best to pull ourselves out, sometimes we may need the help of our Folk community to give us a hand up...

That's when our folks Services Program comes in. We give one-time monetary grants to those members in need. These folks are so grateful and we know that once they get back on track they will contribute to this fund. For those that are able, we are in need of funds so we can be prepared for when these situations arise in our community. If you're able please place a donation today. Even a small donation adds up in the grand scheme of things and even $5 or $10 can help if enough people pitch in. If even a fraction of the folks who like the page did that each month, imagine the possibilities!

AFA Folk Services is intended to provide modest, one-time monetary grants to AFA members in dire need of basic services. It is also to be a source for referrals and information to help members get help beyond what the AFA can directly provide. For more information, please email folkservices@runestone.org.

Your contributions are earnestly solicited and of course, are tax-deductible! Please donate to Folk Services or one of our other AFA Fundraisers at http://www.runestone.org/donate/.

Thanks in advance!

Photo Donations

We have a real need for hi-res photographs of our members' gathering, being active in their kindreds, and showing what it means to live Asatru!

If you are willing to donate some hi-res photos for use in promotions such as the AFA Calendar, the AFA website, our publications, and more please email them to the AFA at photos@runestone.org. The larger the resolution the better, so please email them from the device where the photo was taken.

Eir's Blessings

Everybody needs a little extra help sometimes. Women, being the frithy creatures that we are, are uniquely suited to the task of manipulating energy for the purpose of healing. Magic, you could say.

Do you have a health concern and need a little extra energy? Are you battling with a mental illness like depression or PTSD? Is your baby having a hard time with teething? If you've answered yes at all, reach out to us. Once a month women of the AFA will get together to perform healing rituals all across the globe. If you would like to be included, please send a message to let us know!

At the same time, Women of the AFA! If you are interested in helping to create a frithful, healing magic, let us know! It's easy, but it makes a huge difference to those in our community who need our help!

Last Will and Testament

Recently, several members of our AFA family have passed beyond the veil. One was an old man in ill health, two were young men in the prime of life... all died with no legal will on record. Sadly, in two of these cases, our dead AFA members did not have their wishes respected regarding their funerals nor the final resting places of their remains.

We never know when tragedy will strike. We have a responsibility to our loved ones, we have a responsibility to our own legacies, to plan for our passing, and to make our wishes known. Planning for and contemplating our death is uncomfortable. Hopefully, we all have plenty of time for that down the road, but we can't count on that. Maybe we worry about expenses or hiring a lawyer. We all have excuses to put things off until later, unfortunately, sometimes the clock runs out before "later" happens.

We have found an amazing resource for our U.S. members to make legally binding wills in minutes online for free. This site also has resources to make Advanced Medical Directives and Powers of Attorney. It takes only minutes at https://www.doyourownwill.com/.

Please make your will today.

The AFA would like to collect signed original copies of wills for all our members and store them. We want to ensure that when members of our AFA family die, their wishes are honored. Please send these to:

AFA Prison Ministry

The importance of this AFA Prison Ministry is so much more than just for those who are actually incarcerated, it benefits not only them as followers of Asatru but their families and loved ones on the outside as they will see the noticeable change in their demeanor and demand that our faith commands for them to lead a noble life. We all are future ancestors and will help them be examples of our faith and not be a burden or a product of recidivism.

We are compiling letters from prisoners that are Educational, Empowering, and Encouraging along with special spiritual writings from our Gothar to create a quarterly newsletter to be distributed to inmates, institutions, and jails. Our mission is not about providing free books or literature to bored prisoners who simply want free stuff. We intend on making real-world change for the better of our folk.

""No packed rooms in the prisons; in each institution I have only a few people; occasionally about a dozen, but 5-6 is more common. I certainly do not want the Fellowship to be a club for cons, or ex-cons; the advantage is that when in prison the inmates have time to discuss and digest what they read, a point that often is lost to people on the outside in the hubbub of daily concerns" - Else Christensen

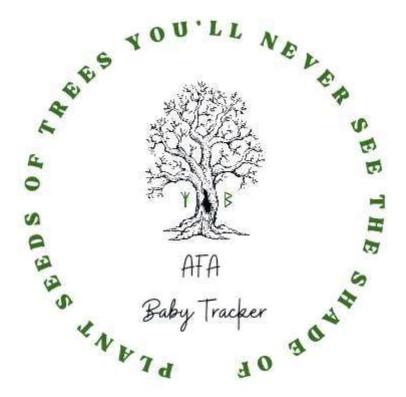

By the example of our Folkmother, Else Christensen, we will also be going into prisons as we are able to. Some of our Gothar and other leadership, will be going into the prisons to hold study groups, lead blot, and encourage continued growth in the folk inside.

If you have a loved one who is incarcerated or know of someone who is Folkish and will benefit from this ministry, please contact us at prisonministry@runestone.org.

Or if you'd like to donate to this ministry, there's a donation earmark set up on our site here. The donations will be used to get small ritual items and books into the prisons and the hands of our Folk inside.

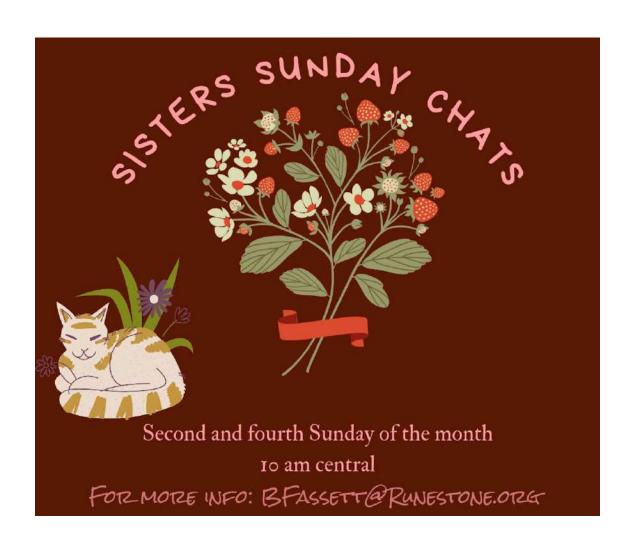

Baby Tracker

To show the growth of our Folk we present to you an ongoing baby tracker. We have been keeping track of how many children have been and are born within the AFA from 2022 and onwards. The ongoing tracking is proof that we are building something sustainable for the future of our Folk, which is a place for these children to grow up within and a place where they can feel proud of who they are!

AFA STEMCELS

Have you ever considered a career in Science, Technology, Engineering, or Mathematics (STEM)? STEM positions have great work-life balance, high compensation, job security, and can be done remotely.

The goal of STEMCELS is to help AFA members learn the skills needed for technical positions and help them find gainful employment using our professional network. We currently have mentors in General Software Engineering, Data Engineering, and Embedded Engineering, including some with Silicon Valley experience. We are holding information sessions to help you decide if any of these disciplines are right for you. The sessions include:

- Possible career paths
- Necessary skills and mindset
- What a typical workday looks like

The next session is on Friday, June 20, 2025, 8:30 PM - 9:30 PM. If this interests you or if you're interested in becoming a mentor, please send an email to stemcels@runestone.org.

AFA Fundraising

Hello and Happy Miðsumar! This month we are doing Thirty Days of Consistency, and I am so ecstatic to see the participation this month! You all rock! Keep it up!

In July, to celebrate and honor our Victory God, we are doing a "Sigr Challenge." Each category represents a different fundraiser. Choose your faction, Strength (Baldrshof Steeple), Endurance (Folk Services Fund), or Distance (South Africa Fund) and compete for the top spot. The way this will be measured depends on your faction.

- For Strength, figure out your starting weight, ability to do 10 reps but not easily. From there work on improving your strength. On July 30th do your 10 reps and see what your ending weight is, again you should be able to complete them, but not easily! This will be broken down into a percentage and the highest improvement percentage wise will be crowned victorious!
- For Endurance, we will do a baseline percent improvement, whether it's running, elliptical, stair stepper, mountain biking, you name it, whatever allows you to track distance and time. Pick your medium for tracking and give it your all to get you best time and distance on July 1st (or close to it) work on improvement all month and then take a photo on July 30th with your ending time. Most improvement for time it takes to go your baseline distance will be the Victor!
- For Distance, we will do this just like the walk-a-thon but it's an individual basis instead of a Hof v Hof basis.

There will also be a "most improved" winner in each category, and we'll announce the winners on VNS as always.

Entry for this event is 20$ same rules apply, donations can be done up until the 30th to give time to calculate. Go to runestone.org or click the link below!

Baldrshof

Food Pantry at Baldrshof

The May food distribution at Baldrshof was an absolutely beautiful day, though chillier than normal, it made for the heavy lifting as a warming task. We were fortunate to have extra handouts on this morning prior to the Sumarmál celebration, with one of our quarterly private donors gifting extra dry goods and desserts! This, in addition to readymade meals.

Beverages and at least 20 pounds of meat each, made for grateful hearts and joyous interactions.

We now have our regulars who gather prior to open, with limited advertisement opportunities, we are truly word of mouth, and the community knows they can count on us being there, come rain or shine, every 3rd Saturday! That assumes reliability gives us great pride in the trust we have worked so hard to bum us up in the community. We are our deeds!

Sumarmál at Baldrshof

Sumarmál at Baldrshof turned out spectacularly despite being about 45 degrees in May. Saturday started with our food shelf serving the community Baldrshof resides in headed up by Folkbuilder Ashley Erlandson.

Afterwards Gyðia Brandy Fassett conducted opening ritual to the Folkmother Else Christensen, the Ancestors, and the beloved Baldr. Food was provided by the gracious Proudfoot family, our Hof Stewards. Blót was conducted by Goði Erlandson in representing the masculine and feminine coming together to create new growth for our Folk where everyone got to take a piece of the Blót home with them.

Immediately following Blót, we moved outside to the Maypole for dancing and closing the ritual. Had yet brand-new members join us for the first time where we all enjoyed each other's company, continuing to build Frith in our local and greater community.

Hof Stewards' Address

The Folk came together on a Sunday in May for a very productive impromptu work moot. The lawn was mowed, floors swept and mopped, and several storage areas were organized.

We took a break to eat brisket and converse. After that, I left with the tired kiddos, but the men kept working. Thank you to all who showed up!

In the future, workdays will be scheduled the Sunday before the Hof holiday. It is all hands on deck! Please contact Brock or I if you can make so we can plan enough food.
